

Name: _____

Date: _____

-ance words

The sound (uns) is often represented by the letters ance when it comes at the end of words, like in the words below.

Remember: Say the word aloud, then say each letter aloud as you write it e.g. 'balance, b ... a ... l ... a ... n ... c ... e'

Can you balance (ba/lance) yourself on one leg?

A theatre puts on a performance (per/for/mance) every day.

Your health is of more importance (im/por/tance) than anything else.

One lap of an athletics track is a distance (dis/tance) of 400m.

Clowns try to have a funny appearance (ap/pear/ance).

You come into a place through the entrance (en/trance) to it.

If you show reluctance (re/luc/tance) you do not want to do something.

If you dance with elegance (el/e/gance), you dance with style and grace.

An ambulance (am/bu/lance) takes injured people to hospital.

Someone who is a nuisance (nui/sance) annoys other people.

Now test yourself without looking at the words and check for yourself if you got them all right. Practice writing any words that you made mistakes on again.

Name: _____

Date: _____

-ance words

The sound (uns) is often represented by the letters ance when it comes at the end of words, like in the words below.

Remember: Say the word aloud, then say each letter aloud as you write it e.g. 'balance, b ... a ... l ... a ... n ... c ... e'

Try to spell each word without looking at it.

Can you _____ yourself on one leg?

A theatre puts on a _____ every day.

Your health is of more _____ than anything else.

One lap of an athletics track is a _____ of 400m.

Clowns try to have a funny _____.

You come into a place through the _____ to it.

If you show _____ you do not want to do something.

If you dance with _____, you dance with style and grace.

An _____ takes injured people to hospital.

Someone who is a _____ annoys other people.

Now check for yourself if you got them all right. Practice writing any words that you made mistakes on again.